

POSITION DESCRIPTION – ENGINEERING PROGRAM MANAGER

THE COMPANY – WANXIANG AMERICA CORPORATION

Wanxiang America Corporation (“WAC”) is a successful American C-Corp with profitable annual sales of approximately $3 billion. WAC is a subsidiary of Wanxiang Group Corp of Hangzhou China, a profitable $40 billion annual sales manufacturer of auto and heavy-duty parts. Both the parent and sub are well diversified conglomerates with significant assets (businesses) in manufacturing, green energy, real estate and other profitable ventures. WAC offers its employees a challenging business environment with competitive base salaries plus generous performance-based bonus programs and benefits including paid vacations and holidays, health, dental, ADD and life insurance, and a progressive 401k with generous matches. WAC is headquartered in Elgin Illinois is a growing company, and is a haven for progressive, ambitious dedicated employees interested in a solid company with a rewarding future.

THE POSITION – ENGINEERING PROGRAM MANAGER

A staff position reporting to WAC’s President and its Chief Operating Officer. Has primary responsibility for coordination of projects and programs initiated by certain assigned customers to serve their marketing or development needs. Works directly with the customer to coordinate and implement ongoing or special sourcing programs involving WAC’s ordering, manufacturing, and delivery programs. Works with WAC’s Engineering, Customer Service and Warehouse Departments to plan, obtain and schedule delivery of products and services required by his/her accounts. On a continual basis scouts customers for possible expanded or new business. Monitors development of manufacturing plans and execution of those plans giving major consideration to existing or required manufacturing capabilities, techniques, and capacities. Monitors incoming shipments for progress and initiates any steps necessary to ensure that delivery to the customer is timely and as promised and that the expected quality is met. Position requires a university bachelor’s degree in Mechanical Engineering or a related discipline and experience. Must be bilingual with fluency in English and Mandarin Chinese both spoken and written.

Responsibilities and Authorities:

1. Works directly with customers and WAC Engineers to assist in the design of parts and services in a way that considers the capabilities and limitations of the Wanxiang plants or department that will produce and deliver the parts or services.
2. Documents the desired processes and systems to implement and control the program.
3. Arranges implementation and monitors execution and performance of the program on an ongoing basis and communicates with the customer to ensure satisfaction of the customer and Wanxiang Departments.
4. Excellent skills to communicate the ongoing challenges in the Global Supply Chain issues.
5. Superb negotiating skills to work with customers on changes in Tariffs, freight costs, raw material pricing etc.